Champion Steer Sells at 46

Pickaway County Fair's grand champion steer sold for 46 cents a pound last night, bringing owner Marty Young, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Young, Route 2, Ashville, a total of $448.50. Buyer was the Circleville Kroger Store, which also bought the reserve champion and the third top animal in the auction.

The grand champion market lamb, owned by Robert Bower, was sold at 49 cents a pound to Union Stock Yards, Washington, D. C., and the grand champion market hog, also owned by Marty Young, sold at 37½ cents a pound to Armour and Company. In general the top animals in each sale went for good premium prices, but the average price paid for the stock was low.

West German Pre-Election Drive Ending

Adenauer Battling Ollenhauer for Top Job as Chancellor

BONN, Germany (AP)—West Germany today winds up a vigorous election campaign that has focused primarily on Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and his strong pro-Western foreign policy.

The nation's 35½ million voters will choose Sunday among the candidates of Adenauer's Christian Democrats, the Social Democrats and 14 smaller parties and regional groups.

The 81-year-old chancellor, bidding for a third term in the first national elections in four years, contends that if the Socialists win NATO will disintegrate and West Germany might become a Soviet satellite.

Adenauer has campaigned 15,000 miles on that theme. Erich Ollenhauer, the 56-year-old Socialist leader, has fought energetically to prove that he is as anti-Communist as Adenauer. But he wants West Germany to shift to a more neutral position with the hope that policy might help bring unification with East Germany.

VOTERS WILL elect only their representatives in the West German Parliament, who in turn will elect a chancellor. Only voters in the home districts of Adenauer and Ollenhauer will vote directly on them.

The Christian Democratic Union, a coalition including Adenauer's party and smaller groups, controls about 51 per cent of the 492 seats in the lower house of Parliament. The Social Democrats have about 33.1 per cent.

Since elections on Sept. 6, 1953, Adenauer has led West Germany into NATO and a rearmament program. The Socialists fought both moves.

One of the sharpest conflicts of the campaign was over what effect a Socialist victory would have on the Western alliance.

Adenauer repeatedly charged that Ollenhauer's foreign policy proposals would wreck NATO, lead to the withdrawal of U. S. troops from Europe and open the gates for "the Red flood."

Hot-Rodder Given Rare Punishment

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Judge Charles Smith let the punishment fit the crime when he sentenced a teen-age hot rodder. David Rodriguez, 18, was fined $25 and placed on a year's probation Friday after he pleaded guilty to stealing hub caps. Judge Smith then lowered the boom:

"I understand it's a social disgrace for hot-rodgers to drive their jalopies without hub caps. During your probation you are ordered to keep hub caps off your car as public evidence of your crime."

Princess, 16, Seen Iraq King's Bride

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP)—Istanbul society buzzed today with romantic rumors linking vacationing King Faisal of Iraq with a pretty teen-ager of royal lineage, Princess Fazelat.

Persons who know both well say the engagement of the 22-year-old king and Fazelat, blondish, blue-eyed and 16, will be announced in Baghdad next week. They will be married, these persons say, next spring.

Fazelat traces her lineage to the thrones of the Ottoman Empire and Egypt. Her father is cousin of ex-king Farouk of Egypt. Her mother is a daughter of Prince Omar Farouk of Turkey, pretender to the Ottoman throne.

Weather Cuts Fair Crowd

A drizzling rain almost all day yesterday kept attendance at the Pickaway County Fair to about 2,500 persons, fair officials announced today.

Heading into its last stand for 1957, the top features at the fair today are a horse show at 1 p. m., apple pie baking contest finals at 4 p. m., horse shoe championship at 7 p. m., and harness racing at 8 p. m. It'll be kid's day, also.

The rain caused cancellation of last night's harness racing program and also the kid's day program planned by the Circleville Lions Club.

Ohio Bell Talks To Continue Workers in Many Cities On Strike

CLEVELAND (AP)—Negotiators for Ohio Bell Telephone Co. and the Communications Workers of America meet again today in an attempt to avert a strike set for 6 a. m. Monday.

With negotiations at a standstill, a large number of the company's 18,500 employees are already on strike. Walkouts were reported in Columbus, Toledo, Akron, Youngstown, Canton, Alliance, East Liverpool, Steubenville, Niles, Springfield, Gallipolis, Massillon, Ironton, Lancaster, Kent, Winchester, Barnesville, Urbana, Martins Ferry, Bellaire, St. Clairsville and Uhrichsville.

Both the company and the union declared the strike unauthorized. The company claims the workers are still under contract. The contract that "expired" at midnight Saturday provides for extension unless either side asks termination, which neither side has done, the company explained.

"The union's negotiating committee has not encouraged these strikes either directly or indirectly," Martin J. Hughes, Ohio CWA director said.

REPORTING "absolutely no progress" in Friday's meeting, Hughes said the union and company would meet again this afternoon. The company has not improved on its offer, Hughes said, and the union insisted that the offer was inadequate.

The company has proposed a 15-month contract which provides weekly pay raises of from $2.50 to $5 or a one-year contract with pay raises of $2 to $4.50. The union said it would accept only a one-year contract and rejected the $2-$4.50 offer.

If the union strikes, the walkout will coincide with a nationwide walkout by CWA telephone installers negotiating with Western Electric Co. in New York.

Circleville High's 1957 gridiron debut was given a hard knock last night by the Athens Bulldogs who handed the Tigers a 19-0 defeat on the winner's field.

Playing in a drizzle which lasted all evening, the Athens gridgers scored all three of their touchdowns in the first half. The closest Circleville could come to scoring was in the final quarter when they reached Athens' 15 yard line only to lose the ball on a fumble.

Fumbles plagued the Tigers most of the evening as they dropped the slippery pigskin six times with Athens recovering four of them. The host team bobbled four times but recovered three of the miscues.

The winners displayed a possession type of ball, forcing the Tigers to remain on the defensive during most of the game. Domination of the ball resulted in Athens getting 59 running plays while Circleville had only 33.

In the first down department Athens chalked up 14, all on the ground, while holding Circleville to seven.

CHS QUARTERBACK Mike Hosler attempted four passes and completed two. Athens failed in its only aerial try.

Circleville was able to move on the Bulldogs, but they could not hold the ball long enough to get a sustained drive going. After Athens had gone out in front, 6-0, in the first quarter, it appeared that the locals were coming back when Walt Arledge grabbed a Bulldog punt and rambled 36 yards to the Athens 29-yard line.

Fullback Dick Bircher kept things going with an 8-yard dash through center, but the threat ended on the next play when Hosler fumbled the wet ball on an attempted pitch-out. Athens recovered.

Athens wasted no time in ringing up its first score. After AHS quarterback Brent Cornell returned the kick to the Circleville 44 yard line, the Bulldogs

Horse Rears, Strikes Girl

Vickie Ridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Ridge, Canal Winchester, was kicked by a horse and injured slightly at the Pickaway County Fair yesterday.

Vickie was leading her mount from the show barn following the horse show when a second horse reared and kicked her on the arm, chest and jaw. She was taken to Berger Hospital for examination and released.

Ohio Hogs and Sows Show Drop in Price

COLUMBUS (AP)—Prices on both hogs and sows were lower this week.

The Ohio Department of Agriculture reported market hogs averaged 75 cents lower at $20.05 per 100 lbs. Sows prices declined from $19.25-$19.50 to $18.00-$18.50 on Friday's close.

drew first blood in just six plays. Fullback Larry Smith went over from 12 yards out. Cornell's try for point was no good.

CHS halfback Ray Phifer returned the ensuing kickoff to his own 30. After the Tigers picked up eight yards on runs by Arledge and Bircher, Hosler got off a quick kick which landed on the Athens 35 yard stripe. The Tigers then forced Athens to punt with Arledge making a nice return to the opponent's 29. However, the ball was lost on a fumble two plays later.

Athens' second score came a few minutes after the second quarter started. Right half Max Sch-

U. N. Condemns Reds in Hungary

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U. N. General Assembly today brushed aside "neutralist" protests and voted a new condemnation of the Soviet Union for repressive measures against the Hungarian people.

The condemnation was a key provision of a 37-nation resolution approved in a special meeting of the 81-nation Assembly. The vote early this morning came after four days of debate. The count was 60 in favor, 10 against and 10 abstaining.

The only negative votes were cast by the nine Soviet bloc countries and Yugoslavia. Those abstaining were Afghanistan, Ceylon, Egypt, Finland, India, Indonesia, Nepal, Saudi Arabia, Syria and Yemen. South Africa was absent.

The result was a smashing victory for the United States.

The U. S. delegation headed by Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, had taken the lead in lining up support behind the resolution and in resisting attempts by several Asian nations to tone it down.

THE RESOLUTION placed the Assembly squarely behind the U. N.'s five-member Committee of Inquiry which had indicted the Soviet Union and the Hungarian regime of Janos Kadar for mass deportations and indiscriminate slaughter in putting down last fall's uprising.

It called on the Russians and warzel found a hole in the right side of the Tiger line and rambled 32 yards to paydirt. Cornell's extra-point attempt was no good.

Following the kickoff Dick Bircher fumbled on the first play from scrimmage. Athens recovering the evening came six plays later when Cornell circled left and on a keeper, crossing the goal line untouched. This time Cornell's kick for point split the uprights, giving the host squad a 19-0 advantage.

TAKING THE kickoff shortly before intermission, the Tigers moved 36 yards on the efforts of Bircher, Hosler and Arledge, only to have the drive handicapped by a 15-yard clipping penalty. They managed to get to the Athens 25-yard marker before losing the ball on downs.

Neither team was able to move the ball consistently during the final two quarters, the Tigers showing a vast amount of defensive improvement. Athens retained most of its first team for the second

Coach Tom Bennett said he was disappointed that his squad was forced to play a defensive struggle which made it impossible to get a sustained attack underway. He also pointed out that fumbles hurt considerably.

The CHS coaches emphasized that more work is needed on defense but hastened to add that several boys did a workman-like job on the line, including guard Asa Elsea and substitute ends Gerald Allison and Bill Johnson.

Next Friday night the Tigers open the home season, playing host to the Chillicothe Cavaliers. Kick-off time is slated for 8 p. m.

Jury Chides Man's Return To Nature

MOUNTAIN GROVE, Mo. (AP)—John Minnig, 53, was convicted Friday of putting around his 160-acre Ozark farm in nothing but a carpenter's nail apron, and sometimes not even that.

A jury took only 10 minutes to find him guilty of indecent exposure, and judge E. L. Colton sentenced him to jail for a year.

Minnig, who describes himself as "mother nature's obstinate brat," appeared in court fully clad, wearing his nail apron on the outside of white overalls and a sweat shirt. His hair was shoulder-length.

Minnig, acting as his own lawyer, told the jury he was impressed 15 years ago, while plowing in Iowa, that his horses were warm, although unclothed, while he was chilled with clothes on. It was then, Minnig said, that he decided to go back to nature.

In the middle of a discourse on his doctrine, Minnig went over to George Fees, a juror. Pulling up his pants leg, Minnig said: "When people are dead, they are pale." Then he pulled up Fees' pants leg and asked the jury to compare "Now which of us is nearer dead?" he inquired, his sun-browned leg next to Fees'.

British Jet Comets Due To Resume Service

LONDON (AP)—A British Comet jet airliner begins regular overseas flights next week for the first time since an earlier model was grounded in 1954.

Both Planning Statements on Their Findings

Arkansas Governor, President Confer on Integration Problem

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—President Eisenhower and Gov. Orval Faubus held a meeting on the Little Rock integration crisis today and the governor said later the meeting was "very constructive."

Both the White House and the governor planned to issue formal statements later. Faubus left immediately by helicopter for nearby Providence.

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the White House would issue a statement here after the governor made his. The President and Faubus talked for more than two hours, with aides sitting in part time.

Both were smiling when they emerged from the President's quarters. They posed for pictures together and shook hands with every evidence of cordiality.

While reporters pressed forward, Faubus raised his hand for as much silence as the roar of the helicopter propeller would allow and announced he and the President had held a "very constructive conference."

FAUBUS WENT on to say he and Eisenhower "of course were old comrades" in World War II, when the governor served under Eisenhower's command in Europe.

Faubus declined to tell reporters if any decision had been made in the situation at Little Rock. He has called out National Guard troops to block school integration despite federal court orders that the mixing of white and Negro pupils begin at once.

In Little Rock earlier this week a source close to Faubus pictured the governor as ready "to confer, not capitulate" at this meeting with Eisenhower.

On leaving Little Rock Friday Faubus said he was optimistic about solving the problem in Little Rock where Federal District Court injunctive proceedings have been started against him in a move to clear the way for school integration.

In requesting the conference, Faubus wired Eisenhower last Wednesday that he felt they should "counsel together" regarding the course he (Faubus) should take. The governor at the same time expressed willingness to "obey all proper orders of our courts," and added "it is certainly my desire to obey" the integration order in the Little Rock case.

Faubus, who sent troops to the Little Rock high school Sept. 3, has said repeatedly he did so to preserve peace and order and not block integration. He contends there would have been violence if a court-approved plan for admitting 10 Negroes to the school had been put into effect.

Eisenhower, disturbed by the various violence episodes in the integration picture, previously told Faubus that he intends to uphold the Constitution by every legal means at his command.

Engineers Study Big Rift in Earth

FARNWORTH, England (AP)—While engineers kept watch for the slightest yawn of a new cave-in, workers today dug into debris beside a house-consuming rift in the earth.

Other workmen plowed trenches 600 yards to a brook to divert water from heavy rains and from a burst water main that might be the cause of the trouble.

The crater 50 feet square and 25 feet deep has wrecked 24 houses and forced evacuation of 118 others. Some officials said veins of a long-abandoned coal mine might have weakened the earth's surface.

Checking on People Fair Visitors Find Plenty Of Interest on Rainy Day

By DICK RANDALL
Herald Staff Writer

A rainy day at the county fair may slow things down a bit on the midway but an onlooker can always find lots of action inside the Coliseum.

One of the first exhibits the passerby notices is the toy railroad display, partly because it makes the most noise and partly because small trains running around on small tracks are always fascinating. Those most intrigued with this timeless attraction are small boys, their fathers, little girls, and the demonstrators, in that order.

One had only slightly higher than the display table rested on same, chin on folded arms as the trains passed within inches of his nose. Only the hand of his nearly equally absorbed father seemed to restrain a closer inspection.

Near the toy train exhibit is the General Electric demonstration which features among other things, an endless supply of popcorn set out in paper cups. If some of the refreshment concessions are in trouble, the reason is here—this stuff is free. It's good too.

MRS. JOYCE FRIEND of Lancaster who keeps the popcorn coming, says that she's given away more than 1,000 cups since the fair opened. Translated into familiar ten-ounce popcorn containers, it equals 50 cans.

The largest exhibit crowd most of the time is the one gathered around the Columbus beauty school demonstration, where from one to four members of the fair sex are being "serviced" as the student beauticians term it. Five students including one man, do the beauty work under the direction of two supervisors.

Most of the women who sample the beauty work at the display are over 35 according to one of the instructors, Mrs. Merry Gold. The youngest so far, has been a 12 year old miss.

While women usually make up most of the ever present group of onlookers, it is the men in the group, according to Mrs. Gold, who appear the more interested and make the funnier faces. It's a strange sight for most of them.

If he's not careful a passerby can miss the massager display because its near the trains and popcorn, but he shouldn't because it's one of the fair's most interesting exhibits. Anyone can sit down and let the machine go to work on him.

Most people who ask for a massage have aches or pains according to the demonstrator, Mrs. Helen Neer of Urbana. About half are women and the greatest number of both sexes are probably between 35 and 50, according to Mrs. Neer, "the age group that's trying to make the most money."

Yesterday Mrs. Neer said, she had to give a massage to the young man student beautician who claimed he had gotten a stiff neck from doing hairdressings.

Back to the trains. Yes, there was the small boy, the same father and the same three trains. The operator of the display said that the trains will run steadily for hours. They are stopped only when the generator gets hot.

SOONER OR LATER, an observer will meet up with a man in paint ragged garments who seems to be everywhere at the fair including the Coliseum. He is Rusty Barton, the self-styled "tramp" who is a walking welcome to fairgoers. A veteran of 20 Pumpkin Shows, Rusty is experiencing his first fair here.

One of the most popular and most valuable displays this year is the drivers clinic where one can have color and depth perception, visual acuity and reaction time tested by an interesting instrument known as the porto-clinic.

More than 200 fairgoers of all ages have taken these tests. Operators of the clinic say that many wives came to take the tests yesterday, encouraged to do so by their husbands who had been tested the day before.

The fastest reaction time recorded so far in shifting the foot from the make believe accelerator to the make believe brake pedal, has been .32 of a second. This speed demon was a lady who gave her age as 61.

Back to the trains again, the small boy and father were gone and only two of the trains were still running. The third was out of commission. A small hand had excitedly grabbed a tanker car causing a derailment.

Braves Lose Game, but Gain In Standings

Second-Place Cards Face Tough Job with Mathematical Setup

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Milwaukee's Braves lose, but they gain. That's what the St. Louis Cardinals are up against in the National League pennant race.

The second place Cards, feeling the crushing weight of last month's nine-game losing streak more and more each day, had a chance to move up in their improbable bid for the flag when Brooklyn beat the first place Braves 5-1 Friday night, but they blew it in a 7-3 defeat by the New York Giants.

The twin defeats left the Braves five games ahead of St. Louis in the standings, but reduced their magic number to 10—with any combination of Milwaukee victories and St. Louis defeats totaling 10 giving the pennant to the Braves.

Both have 14 games left and to give you an idea of just how tough things are for the Cards, they could win 10 of the remaining 14 while Milwaukee was winning only six and the Braves would still claim their first flag since 1948.

The chance for an upset in the American League race are even slimmer now that the New York Yankees have whipped Chicago's second place White Sox 7-1 in the opener of their two-game "show-down" series. The Yankees' magic number is nine with 13 to play. The Sox have 15 left.

In the other games Friday, Cleveland clobbered Boston 16-3 and Washington whipped Kansas City 11-6 in the AL, while Cincinnati outlasted Philadelphia 8-7 and Pittsburgh swept a double-header from Chicago's Cubs 4-1 and 2-1 in the NL. Rain postponed the Detroit at Baltimore game.

Don Drysdale, the sophomore right-hander who tops Brooklyn's staff, won his 15th with a five-hitter, permitting the Braves only one hit over the last five frames in his first complete game against Milwaukee. The Brooks bagged it with four in the seventh, getting the first two on Carl Furillo's double off loser Gene Conley and scoring the other pair on bases loaded walks from reliever Don McMahon. It was Milwaukee's sixth defeat in nine games.

Ex-Card Ray Jablonski junked St. Louis' winning streak at four, driving home New York's first single. The Giants won it with three in the eighth off starter Larry Jackson, now 14-9, overhauling a 2-1 lead the Cards had nursed for four frames.

The Cards scored one in the eighth, but Marv Grissom came on to nail it by striking out the pinch-hitting Stan Musial with the bases loaded. Musial still leads in the bat race at 340—four points ahead of Willie Mays, who gained four points with four of the Giants' 16 hits.

The Yankees, with Mickey Mantle and Bill Skowron coming off the injured list, socked the Sox early, rapping 19-game winner Billy Pierce for seven of their 13 hits and a 4-1 lead before he left.

Woody Hayes To 'Open Up' On OSU Offense This Year

By JERRY LISKA
Midwest AP Sports Editor
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Coach Woody Hayes, while still proud of "dull" style football that gave Ohio State perfect Big Ten seasons in 1954 and 1955, is going to open up the Buckeye attack a bit this season.

Beyond admitting the 1957 Bucks will pass more than last season, Hayes is keeping secret what diversity he is planning for his split-T team which lost six regulars from last season.

"If you were fans," the chatty Hayes winks at sports writers, "I'd tell you spend $4.00 (for a ticket) and find out what we have new. Seriously, we plan a change other than more passing. We have to diversify some."

Last season, the Buckeyes fashioned a 6-3 overall record and 4-2 in the Big Ten for a fourth-place tie with Michigan State. That was an expected slump after the departure of Howie (Hopalong) Cassidy, who sparked Ohio's 1954 and 1955 title drives.

Hayes, who must develop a new quarterback and capable reserves down the line, has no apologies for the possession-type football which goes with his basic split T. Maybe Ohio State's attack has been dull, as some say, snapped Hayes, starting his seventh standpoint. It grinds out the yards and gets you down to the goal line. People don't kick too much, if with his 11th defeat in the third. Mantle, out for 10 days with shin splints, doubled home a run in the first and tripled and scored in the third. That raised his average to .370, six points shy of Boston's Ted Williams (.376) who is still sidelined by a chest ailment.

Whitey Ford won his 10th, giving up Sherm Lollar's 11th home run, but scattering the six other hits the Sox managed in his six frames. Bob Grim mopped up with one-hit relief after Ford gave in to a bad cold.

The Indians battered four Boston pitchers for 21 hits, five by Dick Williams, while Vic Wertz drove in five runs with a homer and two flies. Mike Garcia won his 11th.

Roy Sievers, bidding to become Washington's first AL home run champ, clubbed his 37th and 38th for three runs that upped his league leading RBI total to 105. Dick Hyde won it, pitching five innings of one-hit, shutout relief as the Senators ended their losing streak at five games and fled the cellar while the A's dropped in.

Jack Sanford, Philadelphia's rookie of the year candidate, lost his second in a row for a 17-7 record, although all but one of Cincinnati's five runs against him were unearned.

Bob Friend won his 12th with a six-hitter in the opener for the Pirates, who cashed home runs by Hank Foiles and Bob Skinner. A two-out single by Gene Freese in the ninth won the nightcap for the Pirates.

you get the ball across that goal line."

There is no likelihood that Hayes will have his two quarterback prospects, Frank Kremblas, and Andy Okulovich, both labeled potentially fine passers, go overboard on a throwing game.

When Hayes speaks of passing more than last year, he isn't threatening an aerial circus. The Bucks last season threw only 50 aerials, completing 15, with now-graduated quarterback Frank Ellwood having a 7 for 20 mark.

If Hayes has the same luck breaking in the inexperienced Kremblas and Okulovich he did in unveiling Ellwood, his quarterback problem won't be large. Hayes has the knack of instilling great confidence in his signal-callers.

The hard core of Ohio State this season will be halfback Don Clark, veteran guard Aurelius Thomas and Co-captains Cisco and Leo Brown, a standout end who is the first Negro to attain the Buckeye captaincy honor.

Buckeye success will depend on how much help these four will get from junior Russ Bowermaster or soph Jim Houston at the other end; tackles Dick Schafrate and John Martin; Ernie Sychalski or Bill Jobko at the other guard; 265-pound Dan James at center; and Okulovich or Kremblas at quarterback; Le Beau and Sutherland at halfbacks; and soph Bob White and Joe Trivisonno as fullback help.

Asked to rate his team's chances in the Big Ten schedule Hayes said: "I just don't know about this club. There are too many new faces."

Mt. Sterling Hits On Two Aerials

Mt. Sterling cashed in on two long passes to whip Ashville 13-7 last night on the Circleville High field. It was Ashville's 11-man football debut.

Ashville scored first, hitting on a long Bill Hollenback to Ron Bartholomew pass in the second quarter. Dick Hoover's run for the extra point was good.

Mt. Sterling took the next kickoff and went on to score with a 25-yard Joe Teeters to Ben Furness pass the payoff pitch. The extra point run failed, and Ashville held a tenuous one-point edge.

With about three minutes to go in the third period, Teeters tagged Chuck Stump with a 17-yard aerial for a TD to put Mt. Sterling ahead for good. Dick Sells punched over the extra point. It was a Darby Valley League contest.

Worship Every Week ---

'A Friend and Neighbor' to Be Title of Lutheran Sermon

The sermon topic this Sunday at Trinity Lutheran Church will be "A Friend and A Neighbor" taken from Luke 10:23-37. John Neumann, Student Pastor, will be the speaker. Services will be held at 8:30 and 10:45 a. m. with Sunday School at 9:30 a. m.

Hymns chosen for both services are "While Yet The Morn Is Breaking," "O Master, Let Me Walk With Thee" and "The Church's One Foundation."

The adult choir under the direction of Carl Leist, will lead the singing at the early service. At the late service, the Youth Choir, under Clifford Kerns, will accompany the congregation.

Afternoon services will be held in Christ Church, Lick Run, at 2 o'clock.

Sunday at 7:30 p. m. the Junior and Senior Luther Leaguers will have a hayride.

Thursday at 7:30 p. m. the Brotherhood will meet in the parish house. The program will be on mental health and will be in charge of Dr. V. D. Kerns and Dr. F. W. Anderson. All the men of the church are invited.

Presbyterian

Continuing with his series of sermons on the meaning and importance of Christian worship to every community, the Rev. Donald Mitchell will present the second message in the 10:30 morning hour of worship at the Presbyterian Church Sunday.

"The Visible Word of God" is the theme for this service, and it will show how the earliest and therefore the most authentic worship of the Christian Church was based upon the sacraments; and we recall that from the early Church came the divine power that moved empires and changed the course of human history throughout the whole world even unto this present day in which we live. So it is a vital part of our lives today, though with many, its power of enrichment in our lives is little understood.

"All Hail The Power of Jesus Name," "Jesus Thou Joy of Loving Hearts," and "The Church's One Foundation," are among the hymns to be sung by the congregation during the worship. The Scripture describing the oldest act of worship within the Christian Church will be read from the first letter of St. Paul to the Corinthians, chapter 11.

In the afternoon, about forty delegates from other churches within the Presbytery of Columbus will meet in the local Presbyterian Church to confer on the General Assembly Five Year Study Program of Advancement, throughout the whole Presbyterian Church. Items of vital information will be presented and explained, —ideas of great value to all in the successful program of the church year will be presented for discussion. The conference will begin at 2:30 p. m.; supper at 6 p. m.

Delegates will consist of representatives from Sunday schools; Budget Committees; Elders, Trustees, Deacons; Womens Association members; Westminster Fellowship, and members from the congregations. The Rev. Mr. Keith Conning, pastor of Brookwood Presbyterian Church, Columbus, will be in charge.

The Sunday services at the Church of Christ in Christian Union will commence with the opening of Sunday School at 9:30 a. m. in both the adult and junior departments. Following the Sunday School, the Pastor, the Rev. Richard Humble will deliver the morning message in the worship hour at 10:30 a. m.

We look forward to a special Youth Service at 6:30 p. m. The speaker will be Miss Francisca Dominguez, a graduate of our Missionary High School at Laredo, Texas and presently a student at the Circleville Bible College.

Present in this service to provide special music will be the Gopelaires, a trio from the Circleville Bible College. The members of this trio are the Misses Sonia Truex, Helen Peifer, and Mary Ann Doan. Another musical selection will be a vocal solo presented by Mr. Andrew Davies.

The regular evening service is one of evangelism. Opportunity to pray is given to all those who wish to seek Christ as their Saviour. The publican was justified freely by God because of his earnest plea for mercy "God be merciful to me a sinner." (Luke 18:13). The Pharisee, unlike the publican, wanted only to be justified in the sight of men.

Murrow Keeps Tab on Stars' Superstitions

NEW YORK (AP) — Ed Murrow, who defies superstition himself by launching the fifth "Person to Person" season over CBS-TV tonight, has collected quite an assortment of crotchets, charms and quails in interviewing the great and near great.

Concert star Gladys Swarthout ignores one old "don't" by singing in the dressing room, but goes into a snit over overturned salt.

Says Lisa Kirk of night clubs and stage: "I touch wood when I sneeze and when I feel rain it means good luck."

The Duchess of Windsor, who dislikes the number 13, won't put a hat on a bed or hang anything on a doorknob.

Audrey Meadows advised Murrow: "If something happens, you spin around three times, sit down and count to 10."

Imogene Coca vowed she wasn't superstitious, but told Murrow she wears one certain pair of patched blue jeans to every rehearsal.

For the first guest of the new season, "Person to Person" has Julie London, another lass who dotes on 13—she even insisted her first three record albums each contain 13 songs. The other guest is to be Robert F. Kennedy, counsel for the Senate Rackets Committee. Not a hint of superstition there—or with Murrow himself.

"I'm only careful about one thing," insists the commentator. "I never cross a street against the light."

State Making Checkup On Wines Sold in Ohio

TOLEDO (AP) — An Ohio Liquor Control Department official says a continuing spot check of Ohio-made wines and those coming in from out of state will be undertaken to make sure they are up to standard.

George J. Lamneck, chief of the department's Beer and Wine Division, spoke at the opening session of a two-day meeting of the Ohio Wholesale Wine Dealers Assn.

LOST BOY

Dry those tears, Sonny. The Law has brought you home.

But when you're grown up, don't get lost then—for the Law won't be able to bring you home!

Sure, grown-ups often get lost. They choose the wrong road, they take the wrong turn, they depend on the wrong ideas, they seek the wrong aims. And some of them get lost again and again.

Why can't the Law bring them home, too? Well, when a grown-up gets lost he generally does a lot of harm to himself and others. And then it's the job of the Law to protect people from the harm he is doing.

But, Sonny, when you grow up you're not going to get lost. We have thousands of churches for youngsters like you—and for your parents, too. Churches teach us to find ourselves before we have a chance to get lost.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Farm Land Prices on Upswing

Farm assets—the value of farmland and improvements—rose to a record value of $176.8 billion by last January 1, according to Federal Reserve System figures just released. The increase in value over the year before was 5 per cent of $8.6 billion.

Meanwhile, the number of farmers dropped again to hit a new low of slightly more than 22.2 millions, or about 13.3 per cent of the total population. This is a decrease of 2.8 millions since 1950 and 10 millions since 1910. Farm population in 1910 was 34.9 per cent of the total population.

Some persons may wonder why the value of farms continues to shoot upward when farm income has been dropping consistently for several years.

The explanation undoubtedly lies in the fact that the demand for land greatly exceeds the actual short term income realized from it.

Take the city business or professional man who is able to save a substantial amount of cash. He sees the forces of inflation riding high and decides the 3 to 6 per cent he could realize by paper investment will not protect him against rising prices.

So he harks back to his boyhood on the farm. He thinks, "Well, it would be a good investment to put my money in land — it will rise in value with inflation. And anyway, I could always retire to it and raise potatoes." He bids for a farm and the price goes up.

Then there is the value of possible mineral products under the land. Oil companies are active in many areas seeking oil and gas leases. This pushes values up.

Another factor is the increasing acreage being taken out of farm use for highways and suburban developments. This, too, forces values upward.

City folk may conclude that farmers are "getting rich." This is true only in one degree—because there are fewer farmers the wealth is spread out among fewer people.

However, the increase in value in a man's land can only be realized when he sells it. If he sells and then buys another farm, he will have to pay the increased price for the second plot. If he doesn't buy a new farm, he's no longer a farmer.

The true wealth of land is involved in the use that can be made of it. Values are up because, with a booming population, the uses are competing. But for the individual farmer the real value of his land is the wealth it produces in the form of crops. And this currently is on the decline.

Pink Pills Won't Work

The Soviet Union apparently is building up armed forces in Syria rapidly. Weapons include late model fighter planes and submarines. Moscow's aim, according to some appraisals, is to create fighting satellites in the Middle East.

Syria might attack a country friendly to the West, starting a local war. As such a war flared inconclusively, Moscow could seize it as an excuse to protect Soviet interests. Then the big war might be on.

The Eisenhower doctrine for the Middle East is a pledge to resist the spread of communism in that region. Moscow is thought by some to be willing to accept that risk to keep Red China from thrusting westward into Asia and Africa, thus becoming the dominant communist power.

All this may or may not have substance. Against it is the fact that Soviet strategy, which once courted local wars in Korea and Indo-China, no longer operates that way. Using fear of nuclear warfare as a deterrent to war, Moscow is penetrating areas short of war.

This is evident not only in Syria and Egypt, but in Indonesia, India, Burma, Thailand and elsewhere. The same methods of penetration are evident in Africa and Latin America.

The West has coped with Russia by confining its military forces of aggression through bases and resistance when communist armies marched. This new Moscow policy is far different and much more difficult to counter. But it must be met if the free world is to be saved.

It may be the only way is to forget guarantees of national sovereignty, as Russia does, and kick the commies out when their infiltrators press hard against a nation's government. That would be strong medicine. But pink pills have proved ineffective against Moscow.

By George Sokolsky

Israel, Pivot in Mid-East

Israel is like the man in the middle. Whatever happens in the Middle East immediately affects Israel, even if two Arabic countries go after each other, as Syria is seeking to absorb Jordan at the present time. Israel has become one of Soviet Russia's targets for destruction because Soviet Russia wants no representative of Western civilization and of a high standard of living in the Arab world.

Jordan and Israel are more or less the same country, an area part of which was once called the Land of Canaan and at another time was called Palestine. Jerusalem is sacred to both Israel and Jordan and is divided between them. The river, Jordan, noted in the Bible, runs between them in the north and when Jordan was founded, it was called Transjordan. Jordan can have no national economy and therefore survives with difficulty. For years, it received a subvention from Great Britain.

It could survive in a partnership with Israel; it could survive in a partnership with Saudi Arabia. It cannot survive in intimate relationship with Syria which wishes to absorb Jordan as a step toward the destruction of Israel. Syria is now a satellite of Soviet Russia which has armed the country for war against its neighbors.

Such small countries as Israel and Jordan find survival difficult while the giants maneuver to avoid war. In the present situation, Israel faces the fact that the United States, which is supposed to be in conflict with Soviet Russia's policy, is providing Jordan with arms to fight Syria. But those arms might be diverted to fight Israel. In a word, suppose the tables were suddenly turned and Jordan and Syria combined to divide Israel. Syria would use Russian arms; Jordan would use American arms.

Israel was fairly close to taking the Suez Canal from Egypt but the United States intervened and at the suggestion of the United States, Israel retired from Egypt which it had defeated in war. At the time there was much controversy as to what price the United States paid to save the face of the United States in the Middle East. The State Department has always maintained that it made no deal, but Israel said it had. Nobody has ever believed that Israel would have given up so much for no reason whatsoever. It is almost certain that a deal of some kind must have been made because Israel has been fairly quiescent since this particular event. Even now that the United States is arming Jordan, Israel makes but a feeble complaint, although the peril is very great. Should war break out between Syria and Jordan, Israel could be caught in a vise and the question then arises whether the United States would only protect Jordan or whether it would protect both Israel and Jordan.

The failure of American policy

A Russian scientist, back from 20 years study in the Arctic, declares there are really three "North Poles." That's just another one of those science findings we'd rather believe than try to prove wrong.

Three North Poles — does this mean that Santa Claus has a town house, a home in the country and a vacation cottage?

Zadok Dumkopf is against the four-day work week. Says it would cut him out of free coffee an extra 24 hours.

The College of London, it's announced, has developed a new robot which can "hear, speak, act and remember." That puts it well ahead of some television performers we've been watching recently.

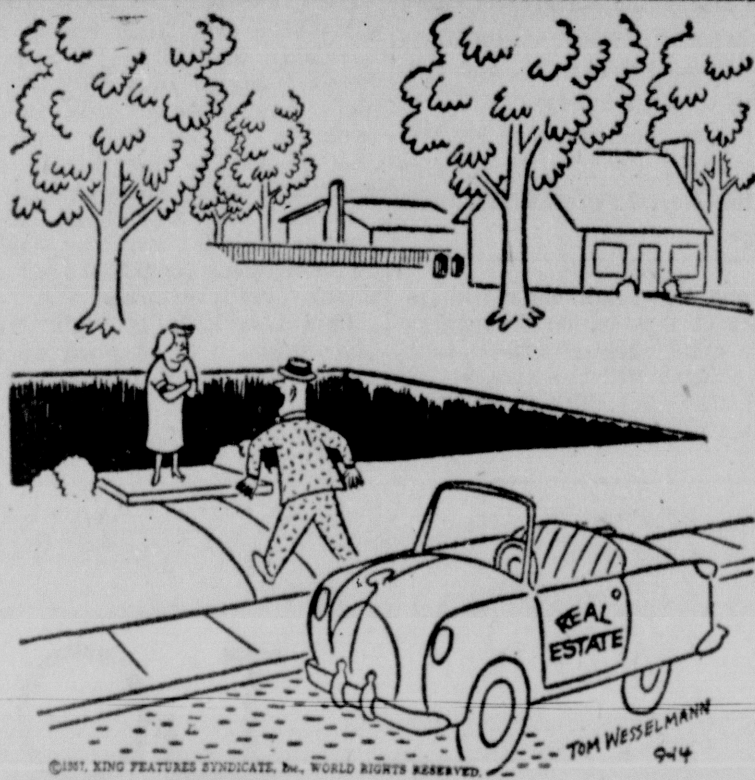

Two anglers report they caught the same perch on their lines at the same time. That fish wasn't biting—it was grabbing!

A news item tells of a Virginia dog that smokes cigars for scientific tests. A dog's life gets better all the time!

In observance of National Dog Week (it starts Sept. 22) all pooch owners are asked to give their pets a thorough bath. Rover, we imagine, would rather folks didn't bother to honor him.

The last of the lightships to be painted black in the U. S. Coast Guard on the Great Lakes is off the mouth of the St. Clair River at the southern end of Lake Huron. All other Great Lakes Coast Guard lightships today are painted red.

LAFF-A-DAY

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A 9-YEAR-OLD GIRL, writes Mrs. Sam Hodges, was asked by her teacher to compose a story about some animal, using the days of the week as an outline. This was the result:

Monday—I am a chicken.

Tuesday—I laid an egg.

Wednesday—I laid another egg.

Thursday—I just sat.

Friday—I heard I'm going to be killed and I'm worried.

Saturday — They killed me and ate me.

Sunday—I'm just a plateful of bones.

Heard about the fellow who stood in line so long for tickets to "My Fair Lady" he ended up with three instead of two? Two for the show and one for parking.

Eyes Window to the World

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Your eyes literally are your window to the world. From the very first time you open them as a squalling infant until the day you close them forever, you are constantly gaining knowledge through your eyes.

Much of this knowledge—and a great deal of entertainment, too—is obtained by reading. Yet how many of you are using your eyes to the best of your ability? How many of you read as fast as you should?

Studies carried out at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center near Chicago showed that the reading rates of those participating in the survey improved an average of more than 45 per cent by training in reading.

Now I'm not saying that you or your children will be able to read twice as fast just by following these simple suggestions, but I'm sure that it will improve your reading ability a great deal.

Therefore you and your children should:

1. Have an eye examination to correct any visual errors.

2. Make a firm resolution to read faster. Determination alone can accomplish lot.

3. Learn to read a whole phrase or even an entire sentence at a glance. The fewer times the eye pauses, the higher your reading speed will be. Read newspaper columns in as large an eye full as possible. Three or four pauses per line are considered good. More than four is poor.

4. Establish a quick rhythm in moving your eyes across the page. Be sure they automatically progress to the next line on the return trip. Not only will this increase reading speed, it also will reduce eye fatigue.

5. Cut down on the number of times you have to go back and pick up something you didn't fully take in. The will to concentrate will be very helpful here.

6. Move only your eyes when you read. If you move your head and neck you will soon become tired and be less able to concentrate.

7. Read at a faster rate than is comfortable at first to force yourself to read without moving your lips or sounding the words. To help break a habit of reading aloud, chew gum or hold a pencil between your teeth as you read.

8. Don't use pencils, rulers or cards to keep your place while reading. Unless you have a special focusing problem, this is a needless weakness.

These suggestions are designed not only to increase your reading speed but your comprehension as well. They are well worth trying.

World's Plowing Contests Scheduled To Start Tuesday

PEEBLES, Ohio — The gates will be opened Tuesday at a 2,500-acre tract near here for what is being called "The World's Fair of Agriculture."

Officially, it's the World's Conservation Exposition and Plowing Contests.

It will be the biggest affair that ever has been held in this rural southern Ohio county, which doesn't have a town much more than 1,500 population. Peebles itself and the county seat town of West Union are the biggest towns in the county.

But sponsors of the exposition are expecting a total crowd of about a quarter million persons for the four-day affair.

Top event on the program will be the World Plowing Contest on Thursday with entrants from 14 countries. The Ohio State Plowing Contest will be held Tuesday and the National Contest on Wednesday. The two winners in the National Contest will represent the United States in the 1958 World Contest in Germany.

Countries represented in the World Contest are Finland, Denmark, Holland, Belgium, Italy, Norway, Sweden, France, Canada, Great Britain, North Ireland, West Germany, New Zealand and the United States.

No American plowman ever has won the World Contest.

The winner of the World Contest will be announced at the Master Plowman's Banquet Friday night in the Peebles High School gymnasium. He will receive the golden plow that annually goes to the winner.

Dignitaries expected to attend the exposition include Secretary of Agriculture Benson; Admiral Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, and Gov. C. William O'Neill of Ohio.

There will be a "queen of the Furrow" to reign over the festivities. She is Ann D. Lane, 16, of Bear Delta, Fulton County. She was chosen at Columbus Aug. 6 in the finals of a "Queen of the Furrow" contest among Ohio girls.

There will be more than 100 acres of educational, commercial and conservation exhibits. Other attractions will be a daily style show for the ladies, daily appearances of the 102-piece U.S. Army field band and tractor-tipping demonstrations. The North American Sheep Dog Society championship field trials will be held during the first three days of the exposition.

Thursday, a "carnival of peace."

NOW'S THE TIME to make your own pickled peaches, both to use on the family dinner table and to gift wrap later for Christmas gifts.

Pickle Your Own Peaches

By IDA BAILEY ALLEN
King Features Syndicate

"A fine relish tray, passed by a pretty waitress, certainly adds glamor to a meal," chuckled the Chef. "I especially liked the one at dinner here in Maine, so smart, so nicely dressed."

"The waitress or the relishes, Chef?" I asked.
"The relishes, of course, Madame. Crisp celery and fennel, creamy cottage cheese in big flakes and perfect pickled peaches."

Quick Pickled Peaches: First make a syrup.

For 4 qts. of peaches, mix together 4 c. granulated sugar, 1 c.

water, 3 c. vinegar, 4 sticks cinnamon, 1 tsp. whole allspice and 1 tbsp. whole cloves. Cook-stir until clear and the sugar is dissolved.

Meantime, scald and peel, (but do not pit), 4 qts. firm ripe peaches. Cook 1-3 at a time in the syrup until tender but not soft. Pack the hot peaches into boiling-waterscalded jars.

Quickly heat the syrup to boiling. Pour immediately over the peaches, filling the jars full to overflowing. Seal at once with scalded jar tops.

If the peaches float place the jars on their sides for 4 days. Turn each day.
